

Re: Directive 2011/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2011 on the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment (RoHS recast).

Trajan Scientific and Medical hereby certifies that product families listed are RoHS compliant.

Due diligence in documentary research and discovery confirms the accuracy of the above statement. Compliance status is also conferred where a restricted substance is allowed as one of the specific applications listed in the Annex to 2011/65/EU Directive.

This statement applies to product used in a way for which it was originally designed and intended, it does not apply to product subjected to mishandling, neglect or misuse.
